A Sleeping Stomach.

If the stomach be inactive, it will not be long until the whole system, organ after organ, will begin to perish and decay for want of the proper supply of aliment and nutriment to repair the wasting energies of nature. This is the reason why DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER has such wonderful potency in curing disease. It soon brings the stomach into a condition which enables it to assimilate the food intended for the rebuilding of the human machine. Dyspepsia would, in most cases, be a disease of short duration if Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher were earlier resorted to in the cure thereof. At this season of the year, when the overworked and overtasked organism needs some prophylactic, there is none which can at all vie with DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER, whose cures meet you at every corner of the street. The Blood Searcher has not only mastered the simplest forms of disease by its restorative and tonic power, but it has, by its enabling powers, in a short time restored the blood of thousands to a healthy consistency, and which, like a river of life, has restored and toned up to the standard of nature every organ of the body. The most malignant diseases known to man have been cured by it. We know several whose names could be given who for years have despaired of ever getting well, who, after the use of Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher for a short period, have been restored to entire health and vigor.

Remember, reader, that we speak of DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER, which the Doctor prepares with his own hands, and which has in its composition more medical virtue than any other preparation with which we are acquainted. If you have any doubts about its efficacy, call at the Doctor's store, No. 140 Wood street, and get a circular containing abundance of testimony of its value, or call upon him at his consulting rooms, No. 120 Penn street. His office hours are from 8 to 11 A. M., and until 4 P. M. Ask for Dr Keyser's Blood Searcher, and take no other. One dollar per bottle, or six for five dollars.

A Romance of Crime—A Mysterious Supposed Suicide Nine Years Ago Proven to have been a Deliberate Murder—How a Seduced Woman Avenged Her Wrong.

The usual quiet of Blandville, Ky., has been disturbed by an incident of great moment to us, and one which forcibly illustrates the old saws that "murder will out," and "a woman cannot keep a secret." About eleven years ago there came to this county, and settled about five miles from this town, a man named Hudson, of South Carolina, in which State he abandoned his wife and three children. One of his neighbors, named Belcher, was the father of two buxom daughters, between the younger of whom, aged fifteen, and Hudson, there sprung up an intimacy, which resulted in the seduction of the girl. Nine years ago this month Hudson committed suicide, and was found in the garret of his house, hanging by the neck, his knees touching the floor. He must have committed the deed some four or five days before his body was discovered, as the remains had commenced to decay, and one side of the face and ear were much eaten away by the rats. A coroner's inquest was held over the body, and a verdict of suicide returned. One of the jurors, however, noticed something like a piece of iron in the ear of the deceased, but did not examine it very minutely, nor did he mention the fact for some time after.

The younger Belcher girl married a man named McNabb, with whom she has since lived very happily, notwithstanding she became a mother in a few months after being married. The family prospered. The elder sister likewise married, and was much respected, none of the neighbors having aught to say against either of the girls. But there was a skeleton in both households; and the sisters, as they plodded along the journey of life, were continually harassed by fears and doubts, each striving in vain to allay the visions which haunted their minds.

A few weeks since, during a fit of despondency, the younger sister divulged to a neighbor the terrible secret which had so long weighed upon her conscience and made her life a torment: it was that herself, with her sister and husband, had murdered Hudson! Her story was, that in company with McNabb, whom she afterwards married, and her eldest sister, she called upon Hudson, and telling him of her situation, upbraided him with her betrayal. Hudson attempted to laugh away the affair, and for the first time informed her of his being a married man. This incensed both the sisters and McNabb, all of whom commenced an assault upon Hudson, as had been previously agreed upon in case he refused to render justice to the girl whom he had so foully wronged. Hudson was easily overpowered and killed by driving into his ear a portion of the iron spindle belonging to a spinning wheel. After the murder was accomplished, the body was taken to the loft of the cabin, and left hanging by the neck, as it was found several days thereafter.

The woman to whom this fearful secret was imparted divulged the facts before the grand jury at the present term of the Circuit Court, who at once found a bill against McNabb, his wife, and sister-in-law, and on yesterday the parties were arrested, brought to this town, and placed in jail.

The women are both decidedly good-looking, but their countenances seem to indicate they have no hope.—Chicago Tribune.

NEW YORK, April 24.—The steamer Periere, from Brest on the 13th, arrived to-day. The City of Baltimore, Western Metropolis and Boroussia, from Europe, have also arrived.

The London Standard of the 11th regards a war between France and Prussia inevitable within a few months.

Some German papers are already discussing military operations. The North German Gazette, a Prussian ministerial paper, has an article on the subject which attracts general attention.

A Frankfort letter says the excitement in Germany is intense. The most inveterate enemies of Prussia side with her now, and she will be supported by public opinion and countless volunteers if required.

The Paris papers consider the Luxemburg question encompassed with great danger. The La France does not attempt to conceal its apprehension.

Advices from Vienna state that the Cabinet no longer considers itself bound by any considerations towards the old confederates.

A Paris letter of the 12th says the financial panic still continues. The Bourse is greatly excited, and little is talked of but war. All believe it inevitable, though some think the Exposition will delay it for some months. There have been large sales and a rapid decline.

The Moniteur maintained absolute silence relative to the reports of an ultimatum having been sent to Prussia by France.

The La France declares the Government has hitherto shown a spirit of prudence which has with difficulty kept down the emotions and aspirations excited by the ambition of Prussia.

It is reported the Camp of Chalons will be formed immediately, and ten thousand men concentrated there.

The Prussian government will convoke the Chambers soon after Easter.

The inhabitants of Luxemburg had presented an address to the King of Holland, asking to be annexed to France.

The Berlin Journal says, in the event of war, the whole North German army will be furnished with needle guns. The fortifications of Kiel Bay, Alsen and Sundewitt are being considerably extended.

The North German Gazette says no one in Germany wishes war, and in France only those can desire it who speculate upon general misfortune. It maintains that no serious argument can be adduced in favor of the necessity of the annexation of Luxemburg to France.

Bismark, on the 9th, in reply to a query stated that Hesse Darmstadt had not expressed a wish to enter the German bund. In consequence of the stipulations of the treaty of Prague, it would be necessary, before the whole of Hesse Darmstadt could join the confederation, to have an understanding with Austria, with whom Prussia could live on friendly terms.

Members of the French Senate, who proposed an interpellate government on the subject of Luxembourg, have renounced their intention, so as not to impede diplomatic action of the government.

FROM MEXICO.

Particulars of the Capture of Puebla—Rumored Recapture—Imperial Officers Shot—Demand for the Surrender of Vera Cruz—Maximilian again Defeated at Queretaro.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 24.—The Steamer Columbia, from Havana, on the 20th inst., has arrived. The line of steamers between France and Mexico is about to be suspended.

Advices from Vera Cruz give the report that the Imperialists had retaken Puebla, but it is discredited. Liberal accounts, on the contrary, state that Diaz had defeated an Imperial force at Venty de Cordova, between Puebla and the city of Mexico, which was sent to aid in the defence of Puebla.

Vera Cruz letters state that Diaz lost two thousand men in the assault upon Puebla, which was taken on the 2d; the imperial loss was one thousand. He had previously made two demands for surrender, which were insultingly rejected. In compliance with his threat that if the demand was not promptly acceded to, all the officers defending the city, from lieutenants up, were executed, the number varying, according to different accounts, from twenty-nine to one hundred and nine. Some one hundred and forty officers in the fortifications were allowed to capitulate and their lives spared. Immediately upon the capture, Diaz sent three thousand men and a battery to attack Vera Cruz.

The Liberals on the 12th demanded the surrender of Vera Cruz. A council of war was held by the Imperial chief, and it was believed they would capitulate.

The reported escape of Maximilian from Queretaro to the City of Mexico is discredited. The Imperialists made another sortie from Queretaro and were defeated.

Mexican advices received at New Orleans say Vera Cruz is closely invested by the Liberals, seven thousand strong, commanded by Generals Mendez and Lavagos. All intercourse between the city and country is suspended, and starvation is imminent. The city was being shelled.

British Schooner Wrecked—Decrease in Population—Arrival of Whaling Vessels—Meeting of Hawaiian Missionaries.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Honolulu dates to April 4th state the British ship Katsay was wrecked at Howland's Island, January 12th. The vessel was a total loss. Twenty-five of the crew were saved and arrived at Honolulu March 29th. The captain and first officer arrived here last night.

LATE CONDENSED NEWS.

Eleven thousand applications have been received by the United States Marshal of the Supreme Court for the position of Registers in Bankruptcy. There are less than two hundred and fifty appointments to be made, and it requires the labor of a corps of clerks to file and endorse the applications.

The Tribune's special says: I learn from an authoritative source that to the last communication from the English Government on the Alabama claims, received some days ago, our Government has replied: Mr. Adams is instructed to respectfully decline the acceptance of the propositions made by the British Government. This leaves the Alabama matter where it started, without any proposition from either party pending.

Additional details of the late revolution in Hayti are taken from the Jamaica papers. A decree was issued by the revolutionary committee, on the 17th of March, banishing Geffard, his family and all his ministers from the Territory, confiscating their property and authorizing any citizen to punish them for treason if they return. Another decree was published on the 13th ult., dismissing all officers who did not take an active part in the revolution. Galnave had been elected President. It is supposed that he will immediately declare war against San Domingo, President Cabral being his bitter enemy.

Mexican papers say that Maximilian attempted to retreat from Queretaro on the 25th of March, his general officers only accompanying him. He was compelled to put back, however, a column of Liberals, under Riva Palacio, having occupied the road. It is reported that Marquez Quiroga and Vidauri succeeded in making their escape.

The capture of Puebla, Mexico, by the Liberals, is again confirmed by a Vera Cruz letter, which states that it was taken by assault on the 2d inst., the Liberals losing about one thousand killed and wounded and the Imperialists about an equal number. No quarter was given.

The corner stone of the new Jewish temple, at the corner of Sixth and Broadway streets, Louisville, was laid yesterday. The ceremonies were very interesting and were witnessed by a large assemblage.

The ultra-rebel papers in Richmond denounced Senator Wilson's speech in severe terms, and one of them calls him a red-handed political missionary.

General Swayne, commanding the sub-district of Alabama, has issued an order amending the apprentice laws, enforcing the repeal of the vagrant law, and abolishing chain gangs.

Agricultural prospects in California are excellent. The grain crops in the great valley of the Sacramento and San Joaquin are generally in a fine condition. A much greater breadth of land is sown in wheat than last year.

The Treasurer of the Southern Relief Fund of California remitted ten thousand dollars in gold on Saturday.

A small boat crossing the James river, at Claremont, Virginia, capsized on Monday, and six ladies and one man were drowned.

Fifty-one thousand votes were cast in New York City, at the election on Tuesday. The Democratic majority was seventeen thousand.

A Havana letter says the Imperialists admit there is quite a force of French, Austrians and Belgians in the Liberal army, called the foreign legion.

The Postmaster General will appoint special agents under the general law to supply vacant postoffices.

The Attorney General is preparing an elaborate opinion on the reconstruction law, explaining the bearings of all its provisions.

The steamer Asia sailed from Boston yesterday, taking no specie.

A row occurred at a saloon on Washington street, Memphis, on Tuesday night, among rowdies. Policeman John Claridge was shot and killed, and another policeman badly beaten. John Cosgrove, a fireman, has been arrested as the supposed murderer.

The construction of a monitor for the Prussian navy will shortly be commenced at New York city.

KANSAS CITY, April 24.—A heavy shock of an earthquake, of half a minute's duration, was felt here at forty minutes past two in the afternoon, causing the people to rush out of their houses in considerable alarm. A portion of the plastering was shaken off one or two houses, but no serious damage was done. The river is very high and is still rising slowly. Persons living on bottom lands on the north side of the river are compelled to flee to the bluffs.

ST. LOUIS, April 24.—Two distinct shocks of an earthquake were felt here about five minutes before three o'clock this afternoon. The vibration was from north to south, lasting about five seconds. Articles of furniture, crockery, &c., were shaken quite vigorously, but no harm was done. [By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 24.—The Tribune estimates the majority for the Republican ticket throughout the State at twenty thousand. In the Fourth District, this city, Garvin, Lawrence, Burrill and Daley, Democrats, are elected.

THE THIRD MILITARY DISTRICT.

Correspondence Between Gen. Pope and Gov. Jenkins, of Georgia.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

AUGUSTA, GA., April 24.—The following is the substance of a correspondence between Major General Pope and Governor Jenkins:

General Pope asks Governor Jenkins if he had seen General Order No. 1, issued April 1st, in reference to organizing States under the Military Bill, before he (Governor Jenkins) issued his address to the people of Georgia, advising non-action until the question of constitutionality was decided by the Supreme Court.

Mr. Jenkins replies he had supposed he was exercising such freedom in the expression of an opinion relative to public matters, as seemed to be still accorded to citizens of the Republic. He did not imagine it was abridged by the accident of the speaker or the writer holding office. In future he will do and say what he believes is required by his duty and oath of office. This he hopes will not involve either a conflict or controversy between them in the execution of their respective trusts, and he thinks it need not. Everything of this character he desires to avoid.

The General, in reply, says Governor Jenkins' explanation is satisfactory as to the past; but, for his own part, being sent to execute the laws of Congress, he will carry out the provisions of the military bill, which recognizes the existing State governments as merely provisional. The object of allowing them to continue was the administration of the State laws during the progress of reconstruction. Had Congress contemplated opposition from the civil authorities, it would have legislated the present State Governments out of existence. General Pope requires that the civil machinery of the State shall not be perverted so as to frustrate the execution of the laws of Congress. Civil officers are required not to use their influence to prevent the people from submitting to and carrying out the laws of Congress.

After discussing matters fully, he says he will be compelled to remove all officers who, while in office, use their influence to prevent the execution of laws; but he hopes harmonious relations may continue between the military and civil authorities.

THE INDIANS.

Engagement With the Cheyennes—First Blood of the War—Express Horses Stolen.

JUNCTION CITY, KAN., April 24.—The Evening Union of this city says: On the 19th inst. a squad of the Seventh Cavalry, under Major Cooper, killed six Cheyenne Indians at Cimarone Landing, thirty miles west of Fort Dodge. This is the first blood spilt in the Indian war of 1867. One of Major Cooper's men was killed and one wounded.

Thirty horses, belonging to the United States Express Company, were run off by Indians from Chalk Bluff Station, on Smoky Hill, a few days ago.

The Prescott (Arizona) Miner of January 12th says: Fourteen members of Capt. Hodge's company of rangers surprised a camp of Indians about one hundred miles from Prescott, December 31st, and killed twenty-three of them. One ranger was killed and three wounded.

Inhuman Cruelty to a Child—A Trial of the Culprit—The Child Fed for Three Weeks on Water Gruel and Cowhided Twenty-four Times.

NORWICH, CONN., April 24.—The trial of C. C. Williams, spiritualist, who, in January last, starved his child, a girl of thirteen years, nearly to death, commenced here Tuesday. The evidence shows he kept her in a cold room on water gruel, for three weeks, and for three days gave her no food. He gagged her for speaking to him, and with his alleged paramour, a niece of Horace Mann, cowhided her some twenty-five times. The girl escaped by jumping from a three story window into a snow bank. The girl testified to-day. The defense admits the facts, but pleads insanity. The evidence closed to day, and the case goes to the jury to-morrow.

River Telegrams.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, April 24.—River falling with 10½ feet of water in the canal.

THE LONDON Court Journal remarks: "Whoever cares to look through the battle pictures in illustrated serials will find much food for astonishment. Though the contest may rage at its climax, no disagreeable smoke clouds the combatants, but every object is revealed with obliging clearness. Some firing may go on here and there, but the field is principally occupied by infantry charging with the bayonet. In precision, so beautifully do the troops move that a straight line drawn from the tip of the bayonet of the first man on the left would just graze every intervening point, not one weapon being a hair's breadth beyond the line or short of it. Every left hand grips the barrel at the same distance from the bands—every right hand exactly clutches the small of the piece; every butt protrudes to the same distance in the rear, and so perfectly "dressed" is the line that if each man should glance to the right or left, he would see precisely the required "buttons" on his neighbor's coat. All right legs are stepping out at the same time, and all the left heels are at the same elevation behind. Looking at such a picture, one cannot help calculating the effect of a single shot enfilading the line, and clipping off fifty or sixty heads at once. It would be as fatal as Munchausen's ramrod, which spitted a whole platoon of birds at one fire, or as the wondrous cannon ball discharged by the besieged Major Gahagan."

The Lockout—A Proposition From Zug & Co.

The "lockout" which has long paralyzed the trade and industry of these parts is not yet at an end. The favorable signs of an early resumption of work have one by one disappeared and the prospect for an idle summer is most conspicuous. The iron masters declare their inability to even offer a compromise between the prices in dispute. Yesterday Zug & Co., who enjoy throughout the country a high reputation, and whose manufactures command at all times a ready sale at remunerative prices, made the following proposition to their workingmen, which will hardly be accepted, although evidently fair if the present strike rests upon a square basis: "The question at issue between the iron manufacturers of Pittsburgh and their skilled workmen has already been too long discussed, and the unprecedented duration of the difficulty has most clearly demonstrated that appeals to the public judgment cannot settle the dispute.

"The Pittsburgh Manufacturers are satisfied that by paying the wages now demanded by the Pittsburgh workmen they cannot successfully compete with Eastern Manufacturers.

"The workmen insist that their demands can be, and ought to be, complied with, and thus the matter has stood for more than three months.

"Now the undersigned, on their own account, and without concert with any other iron firm, hereby propose to hand over their Iron and Nail Mill for one year to any responsible party on the following conditions, viz:

"That the mill shall be run to the extent of its capacity; that they shall pay over to us as our share of the profits the average difference between the prices now demanded in Pittsburgh and the prices now paid per ton in Eastern Pennsylvania, New York, New England and New Jersey."

Thus an opportunity is offered the laborers to change places with the capitalists. If the repeated statements of the strikers concerning the large profits arising out of their labor, be true, Zug & Co. have offered a rare good chance to the workingmen, which they should not be slow to accept. We understand that the other mills are content to wait upon the result of the experiment, if the strikers should accept the proposition, believing that a solution of the difficulties existing between them will be arrived at.

Library Association.

Henry Vincent, Esq., of England, delivered a lecture last evening, in the Academy of Music, under the auspices of the Mercantile Library Association and Mechanics' Institute. He was introduced to the audience by James B. Scott, Esq., and then delivered a lecture on "The Late American Conflict, and the Friends and Enemies of America in England." For majesty and beauty of diction, sublimity of sentiment and grandeur of conception, we believe the lecture could not be surpassed. The fire of true patriotism was re-kindled into a purer and holier flame in the breast of every American that listened to his matchless power of oratory and fervid eloquence. The lecture should, if possible, have been heard by every citizen of these cities, and we only hope it may be repeated to the largest audience that can be crowded into the most capacious hall in the city. We shall never forget the impression produced on us by the description given of the devotion to the American Union by the suffering operatives of England during the period of the recent rebellion. These hardy sons of toil refused to receive bribes from the Southern agents in England, and declared they would rather starve to death than utter one word that might exert an influence on the English Government to induce them to raise the blockade.

Unqualified testimony was borne also to the untiring efforts of such men as John Stuart Mills in behalf of the United States Government during the same period.

Mr. Vincent will deliver a lecture in the Academy of Music this evening, on "The English movements I have taken part in, and the men I have known." Mr. Vincent possesses a thorough knowledge of men and things in England and portrays them in words of fervid eloquence. All who wish to hear a lecture that will be both instructive and amusing should be present, and avail themselves of a treat that is seldom enjoyed. By all means let the house be crowded to its fullest capacity.

The O'Neill Scandal.

James B. O'Neill appeared before Mayor M'Carthy, yesterday, and made an information against Daniel O'Neill for libel. Following is the information:

Personally appeared before me, William M'Carthy, Mayor in and for the city of Pittsburgh, James B. O'Neill, who being duly sworn according to law, doth depose and say, that on the 24th day of April, A. D. 1867, in the city of Pittsburgh, county of Allegheny, a certain Daniel O'Neill, of said city, unlawfully, wickedly and maliciously, did write, print, publish and exhibit a malicious and defamatory libel of and concerning this deponent, tending to blacken the reputation of this deponent, in the words following to wit: [Here is attached the statement of Daniel O'Neill, as published Wednesday morning, headed "A Card to the Public."] and thereby exposes this deponent to public hatred, contempt and ridicule. Complainant therefore desires that a warrant may issue, and that the aforesaid Daniel O'Neill may be arrested and held to answer this charge of libel. And further deponent saith not.

J. B. O'NEILL.

Sworn and subscribed before me this 24th day of April, A. D. 1867.

W. C. M'CARTHY, Mayor.

Mr. O'Neill has not returned from his wedding tour in the East.

Amusements.

VARIETIES THEATRE.—Our readers will remember that this afternoon has been set apart by Manager Meyers for the grand matinee in aid of the suffering South. A great attraction is offered and we trust a large audience will second the humane undertaking of Mr. Meyers. The beautiful danseuse M'lle Laurent, who is without any doubt the ruling queen of the ballet in America, will appear in several of her most graceful executions. To-night an equally fine bill is offered.

NEW OPERA HOUSE.—Madame Scheller, the accomplished historian, and J. Newton Gotthold, the rising young star, continue to attract large houses, and during their stay here no person should fail to visit the New Opera House. To-night the "Foster Sisters" and "Katharine and Petruchio" will be produced. The renowned oarsman, Walter Brown, who is to test his abilities with Hamill, shortly, will go through a series of exercises with Indian clubs, showing how he has succeeded in gaining such a muscular frame.

The Pittsburgh Rope Works.

Elsewhere we announce the change of the firm of Marshall, Fulton & Bollman—Mr. A. M. Marshall retiring, and Samuel M. Lane, Esq., being admitted. The style now being Fulton, Bollman & Co. Mr. Lane, the new member, formerly resided in this city and is well and favorably known by the business community. He will be pleased to see his numerous friends at the warehouse and office 114 and 115 Water street. The Pittsburgh Rope Works is one of the manufacturing establishments which dates back into the last century, and to-day occupies a prominent position in the estimation of all river and business men. Under the new management the facilities for meeting the wants of the trade will be largely increased, and the firm will continue to merit an increase of the liberal share of patronage hiterto awarded this old and reliable house. We cordially recommend the Pittsburgh Rope Works to the attention of our readers.

Attempt to Poison.

Some weeks ago, David Williard, of Doylestown, was committed to jail, for committing an assault and battery on his wife, but underneath this was the more serious charge of attempt to poison her. It is alleged, that while he supposed her to be asleep, he put something into her mouth, but being awake she spat it out on the pillow. The substance was taken from the pillow and sent to Philadelphia for examination by Professor Rogers, the distinguished chemist. After applying to it the usual test, we are informed, by the District Attorney, that the Professor has pronounced it to be arsenic, and has written to Mr. Cope to this effect. Willard is still in jail.

A Spring Alley Encounter.

Hitherto it has been the custom to designate that beastly practice of fighting, as the manly art, and with justice, too, because women but seldom resort to it. Yesterday morning, however, was witnessed, in Spring Alley, an exception to the rule, two women, Amanda Jones and Eliza Miller, indulging in a regular street fight and not particular either about observing the rules of the "Ring," as to foul blows. Both parties received black eyes and also lost some of their hair in the encounter. The battle was called a "draw" and both parties appeared before Alderman Strain and preferred a charge of assault and battery against each other. They were required to give bail for a hearing.

Alleged Family Poisoning in South Pittsburgh—A Singular Circumstance.

Rather singular circumstances have been brought to light recently, leading to the belief that a conspiracy had been entered into by some persons to poison a family residing in South Pittsburgh. The story, which has caused some excitement in that locality, runs thus: Some weeks since Mrs. Jane McCune received a note throught the city Postoffice, the contents of which were in substance that the writer had overheard a conversation between some parties who were concocting a plot to poison Mrs. McCune and her family. The writer warned the recipient to be on her guard, and assured her that the conspirators were determined to carry their designs into execution. The letter was signed "a neighbor." No attention was paid to the letter, but some days after its receipt, after the members of Mrs. McCune's family had eaten breakfast they were all taken suddenly ill, the symptoms showing the presence of poison in some of the food of which they had partaken. A physician was summoned, and after the prompt administration of antidotes no fatal results followed, although several of the family were quite ill for three or four days. It was subsequently ascertained that the spring from which the water is used for cooking purposes had been poisoned, as a lady, occupying a dwelling adjoining that of the McCune's, had also been taken sick after drinking water from the same spring.

Since that occurrence Mrs. McCune has received two other letters through the Postoffice, purporting to be written by different persons, but evidently the same handwriting. Both letters give warning that the parties engaged in the conspiracy have not abandoned their designs, and state further that if poison fails to accomplish their object, other means will be resorted to. Whether these disclosures have any foundation in fact, we are unable to say, but the letters have really been received, and have caused considerable uneasiness in the mind of the recipient.

The New Court Hours.

Judging from the operation thus far of the new rule as to court hours, making the daily session continuous from ten to three o'clock, the interest of attornies was solely considered, and the principle of the greatest convenience to the greatest number disregarded. Jurors, witnesses and suitors, accustomed to take early breakfast, cannot well forego their noon-day meal, and if opportunity offers invariably embrace it to gratify their appetites. The consequence is that when a case happens to "break down" or to be concluded about noon, and another is called, parties concerned and their witnesses are not present, and more or less time is lost in hunting them up. Witnesses are brought in on attachment, and made to pay the costs of the process, the result of their giving way to the cravings of nature. Cases are also "passed" for a like reason and go "to the foot of the list," thus causing in many instances vexatious delay. Attornies are also found quite as willing to take the chances for dinner, and have not generally given that co-operation to the Court in applying the new rule that their urgency in procuring its adoption would seem to justly call for, if their arguments in its favor were honest or conscientiously advanced. So far we have not observed that the Court business has been facilitated or that the convenience promised to result to Court attendants has in any measure been realized. We are decidedly of the opinion, based upon the evidences of its operation, that the new rule will not work as satisfactorily as promised, and that the Court will rescind it, and relapse into the old practice, unless members of the bar, particularly the "memorialists," demonstrate more clearly the advantages, generally, of the present departure from it.

Either Larceny or a Grand Mistake.

Matthew Baker is a watchman on the "Confidence," a flat-boat lying on the Monongahela wharf. Evening before last, about dusk, John Gordon called to see Matthew on board the craft, and asked him if he couldn't be allowed the privilege of remaining there all night. The request was refused, and after some further talk Gordon stepped off the boat with the intention of spending the night at some other place. While he was in the act of getting off, Matthew observed something like the neck of a bottle protruding from his coat pocket. His bowels of compassion were immediately opened and he invited Gordon to get aboard again. The invitation was accepted. Gordon got aboard and the two spent the evening in social converse, with perhaps, a drink now and then to prevent the hoarseness incident to so much talking. Thus they whiled away the evening until drowsiness, and a flagging of the conversation reminded them that they must retire. So they did, and passed the night in peaceful slumber. Morning came and Gordon, waking up before his companion, donned his clothes—or at least what he thought were his—and started off to attend to his daily routine of duties. When Baker woke up, he noticed, to his great astonishment, that Gordon had put on his best pants and boots, leaving substitutes for each of the articles; it is true, but not of much value in Mr. Baker's eyes. Accordingly Baker appeared before Alderman McMasters yesterday, and made an information against Gordon, charging him with the larceny of a pair of pants valued at six dollars, and a pair of boots valued at five dollars. A warrant for Gordon's arrest was issued, but up to yesterday morning he had not been captured.

A New Metre for Distilleries.

The following circular prescribing a new metre for distilleries, has just been issued from the office of Internal Revenue:

Notice is hereby given that the Secretary of the Treasury has adopted and prescribed for use in distilleries a metre invented by Mr. Isaac P. Tice, of New York, and that regulations for the introduction of such metre will be issued in a few days. Each collector will notify every distiller who applies to make payment for the special tax for the year ending May 1, 1868, that he will not be allowed to continue in operation after the 15th of May, unless he shall before that time have made application for a metre, and accompanied his application with adequate security for the payment of the necessary expenses, which will probably vary, according to the size of the distillery, from six hundred to fifteen hundred dollars. [Signed] E. A. ROLLINS, Commissioner.

An Unknown Boy Drowned.

The body found in the Monongahela river in the vicinity of Gumbert, Farrow & Co's coal works, two miles below Elizabeth, on Monday, was identified as that of a boy drowned by falling overboard from the Brownsville steamboat Elector, five or six weeks since. Coroner Clawson summoned an inquest, at which the evidence was that the deceased took passage at this city for Brownsville, and being without money proposed to work his way. When the boat was nearing Brownsville, he was awakened, having fallen asleep on deck, but before fully aroused, he started up and walked overboard. An active effort was made to rescue him. Deceased appeared to be about fourteen years of age, but nothing was discovered to afford any clue to his name or residence. "Accidental death" was the verdict of the inquest.

Whiskey Distilleries Libelled.

Wednesday forenoon, in the United States District Court, Judge McCandless presiding, R. B. Carnahan, Esq., District Attorney, presented a libel against the distillery of John Morrow, in Washington township, Armstrong county, with all appurtenances and one hundred and seventy-five gallons of whiskey, for a failure on the part of the owner to comply with the provisions of the revenue law. A citation was issued, commanding Mr. Morrow to appear on the 13th proximo. The distillery was siezed by Deputy Collector Henry on the 19th of March last.

The District Attorney also presented a libel against the distillery of J. Scott Wilson, also in Armstrong county, for a like reason. In this case a citation was issued returnable on the 13th proximo.

Habeus Corpus.

A suit of Habeus Corpus was served upon the party having in custody John R. Mickey, arested in this city, on Tuesday, at the instance of a resident of Uniontown, Fayette county, on a charge of conspiracy to defraud, with a view to his release, it being alleged that he was improperly restrained of his liberty. The writ was made returnable yesterday morning, before Judge Williams, of the District Court, who, however, was indisposed, and could not attend to hear the application for discharge. Meantime the prisoner has been taken to Uniontown, and the issuing of the writ was of no service.

Charge of Desertion.—Susanna Brunson appeared before Alderman Mullin, of Allegheny, yesterday, and made information against her husband, David Brunson, charging him with desertion. Mrs. Brunson, in her information, alleges that her husband is a mechanic, makes good wages, and has been doing so in the past, but that, since last August, has failed, in any way, to contribute to her support, or the support of his children. On the strength of this, David was arrested and committed for a further hearing next Saturday afternoon.

Obtaining Money by False Pretences.—Fred Kirsch appeared before Alderman Taylor yesterday, and lodged an information against Emanuel Gaber, one of his employees, charging him with obtaining money to the amount of thirty-six dollars from him, by false and fraudulent representations. Defendant was arrested at the depot, disgored the amount claimed, and the suit was withdrawn.

City School Superintendent.

A subscriber and a school director thus writes us:

MESSRS. EDITORS:—For a week or so back several parties have been canvassing the city for the position of City Superintendent of Common Schools. Now, as a Director, I desire some information on the subject, and would suggest that a meeting of the City School Directors be called at an early day to devise a plan of operations.

DIRECTOR."

The Legislature at its late session so altered the School Law as to relieve the County Superintendent from any control or association with the city schools, and to provide, for the appointment of a "City Superintendent of Common Schools," thus making the city schools entirely independent and separate in all respects from other schools in the county. We have not at hand a copy of the supplement passed by the Legislature, nor are we informed definitely as to the nature of its provisions. As prompt action in the matter would seem to be necessary, the suggestion of "Director," for a meeting of the different Ward School Boards, is in place, and will doubtless be acted upon. We have heard the name of Mr. H. J. Gowrley mentioned in connection with the position of Superintendent, and while there may be others seeking it of equal merit, we can say, from a knowledge of Mr. Gowrley's attainments, and his experience as a teacher, that he is entirely competent, and that his selection could not fail to give general satisfaction. Latterly he was Principal of the Third ward school, which position he resigned a short time since.

Credits were allowed defendants to the amount of $4,225, leaving a balance of $635, which sum the suit was brought to recover, with interest from March, 1865. The State Tax.

The following card from Isaac B. Gara, Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth, fully explains itself:

HARRISBURG, PA., April 23, 1867.

Editors Gazette:—Many of the journals of the state have given currency to the following:

"The Legislature has passed an act abolishing the State tax on personal property, and substituting therefor a levy apportioned among the different counties according to population."

Allow me to say, that no such act has been sent to this Department for examination and approval, and that consequently no such act could have received the concurrent sanction of the two Houses of the Legislature.

As it is desirable that the prevailing erroneous impression in regard to the matter should be corrected, I would respectfully request the mention of the above stated fact in your columns.

Yours very truly,
ISAAC B. GARA.

Splendid Oil Paintings.

Certainly the finest collection of oil paintings ever offered at public sale in this city, is now on free exhibition, day and evening, at No. 65 Fifth street, immediately below the Dispatch building, where they will be sold to-morrow morning at ten o'clock, and at eight o'clock in the evening, by A. McIlwaine, auctioneer. They need no word of commendation from us. Every lover of art will visit the room to-day, and the pictures will then speak for themselves. These are not the usual copies sold at auction, but the genuine originals of eminent artists. By all means, call at No. 65 Fifth street to-day or this evening, and examine these fine productions. Descriptive catalogues are ready for distribution. The sale is positive; and perhaps not again for many years will offer so excellent a chance for superior pictures at auction prices.

IDENTITY OF INTERESTS.

Within the last few days, as will be remembered, a mass meeting of Freedmen was held at Augusta, Ga., which Governor Johnson honored with his presence and a speech. Both the meeting and the part performed therein by the Governor indicate the immense civil and social changes wrought in the structure and working of Southern Society since the breaking out of the rebellion. In former times, when the Patriarchal Institution was an integral part of the Democratic creed and discipline, the announcement of a public meeting to be held by the blacks for the consideration of any political question, would have been regarded as a declaration of war against the peace and good order of the community, and the vigilance of masters, police and blood hounds would have been called swiftly into requisition to suppress it. Blacks were allowed to participate in two sorts of convocations; one religious, where their souls were prepared, after a fashion, for such a heaven as they were held to be fitted for; the other, at the auction block, where their bodies, with all their mental, spiritual and physical capabilities, were sold to the highest bidders, under the shadows of Christian temples and palaces of justice. This Augusta meeting tells how absolutely the blacks have passed from that anomalous condition in which, confessedly having souls to be saved, they were nevertheless reduced to the condition of beasts, with bodies to be sold.

The Governor's speech indicated the novelty of the occasion and of his position. "The interests of the two races are the same, and there should be mutual confidence and harmony." The blacks had heard that refrain all their lives. In itself it was a sentence of dolorous import. It carried them back to old homilies, inculcating the idea of the natural and benevolent mastership of the whites, and the advantages the blacks derived from unconditional servitude. This meaning would have been full and unequivocal, had the Governor passed, as was formerly common, to expatiate on the excellencies of slavery as a missionary institution. Instead of doing this he turned off in the opposite direction, and proposed "the formation of a common platform on which the white and black could secure equal justice before the laws." Had the Governor ventured to make such a proffer even three years ago, a Vigilance Committee, composed of his intelligent and devout white neighbors, would have sent him to his final rest, arranged in a resurrection robe of tar and feathers. But the Governor went on to express the hope that "both races would be friends and co-laborers in working out the great problem of regenerating the South."

Here is a distinct admission that the South has need of regeneration, and that the best efforts of both classes of her population are required in order that the great task may be well done. The Abolitionists preached that doctrine for thirty years, and were denounced as fanatics and incendiaries for their pains. Their turbulent and revolutionary heresy is now accepted, even in Cæsar's household, as the highest type of orthodoxy. Only a few Democratic pagans, scattered up and down in Northern wildernesses, adhere to the old "doctrine of devils."

The Governor struck the key-note—the South is in a bad way, and can only be lifted out by the conjoint efforts of all her people. The South was in a bad way for a long period, and did not know it. While disease was eating out her vitals, she interpreted the hectic flush on her cheek to mean high and increasing health. When convinced that the North was vastly surpassing her in the race for wealth, greatness and power, she did not search for the cause, where alone it existed, in slavery, but ransacked all by-paths and impossible places, conjuring up chimeras and geogons where none existed.

The Proclamation of Emancipation has proved a volume of Revelation. It has convinced the South that what she esteemed her strength and glory was her weakness and shame; that what she accounted the most potent element of progress and prosperity was hurrying her back to Barbarism and Old Night; and that instead of standing as she imagined on the pinnacle of Civilization, she had sunk so low as to stand sorely in need of regenerating. Such a discovery as this goes a long way towards supplying a remedy.

The welfare of the Southern whites is bound up in the same bundle with the welfare of the blacks, a common destiny awaits them. If the whites will generally recognize this fact, and act under the inspiration which naturally flows from it, the work of regeneration will soon commence and be prosecuted with great vigor and success.

CORRUPTIONISTS.

For eighteen hundred years there has been the highest authority for the opinion that in the Church hypocrites are more punctilious than other men in tithing the mint, and rue, and cumin of doctrine and observance. In accordance with the same general law legislative corruptionists have commonly a flaming zeal for the principles and measures of the political party to which they are attached. That zeal constitutes their stock in trade. By it they obtain and hold the position by means whereof they thrive. They use it, moreover, as a cloak to cover their loathsomeness.

Recently, the political zeal of some of these men was urged as a reason why decisive measures should not be used to thrust them out of office and compel them to remain in obscurity. We did not concur in the suggestion that it was best to trust scoundrels any where, and particularly where honest men could be had by asking for them

In one of his late sermons the Rev. H. W. BEECHER uttered some pregnant words on this subject, thus:

"The men at Washington and Albany sold their country; they sold their humanity and their honor, and the trusts that were put upon them by their constituents. They were debauchers of the young; they were the traitors; they that lifted the sword were not half so much traitors; they that despoiled the old banner and trod it under foot; they that fired upon the Government of the United States were not so much traitors as were those vermin who were crawling under the foundations and destroying by corruption the vital power of the Government."

This is the simple truth. It is the very hight of absurdity or infatuation to pretend that a man who is notoriously a corruptionist at Harrisburg is a safe or valuable man any where or in any relation. The sooner they are cleaned out, and honest men put in, no matter of what political opinions they may be, the better for the commonwealth.

TEACHING BY EXPERIENCE.

When it was proposed, a year or more ago, that the financial system of the country should be brought back, with reasonable expedition, to a specie basis, not a few shrewd business men strenuously objected. While confessing that the prevailing system was false and deceptive, they yet thought it practicable to maintain the paper inflation at any point deemed desirable, and thus impart confidence to everybody, and steadiness to business. They overlooked or underrated essential elements of the calculation. Doubtless, they have now discovered that the ebb and flow of supply and demand, are quite beyond the authority of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Many causes have conspired to render the present situation one of doubt and uncertainty. Superabundance of paper money has totally deranged values, so that computations of tolerable exactness are impossible. While the tendency of wages, derived from the expansion of circulating medium, is still upwards, in all departments requiring special skill, the prices of all the products of labor are falling off. Hence come strikes on the part of workmen, and hesitancy and carefulness on the part of employers.

At no time during the last six or eight years have so many men been out of employment as now. Hundreds of thousands of the most competent men are earning nothing; have been earning nothing for some weeks past. They and their families are living sparingly, through fear their savings will be exhausted before they resume work. This lessens the demand for many sorts of merchandize; but this is not the worst effect. The suspension of labor by such large bodies of workmen creates a panicy feeling through all ranks of the community. Retrenchment of expenditures becomes the law. Circumspection becomes universal. All wait for a diminution of prices. Even the workmen who are most intent upon an enhancement of wages, anticipate a falling off in rents, flour, beef, pork, clothing, and all manner of family supplies.

All these are but different manifestations of the consciousness that the financial system in use is unreal, and cannot be sustained. The general feeling is that the currency must be brought to a specie basis; that paper money must be convertible into coin, without loss, at the will of the holder; and then prices will bear a just proportion to actual values. Until this point shall be reached sensible people will exercise extraordinary prudence in contracting obligations, in expanding operations, in accumulating stocks, and in regulating expenses. Traders who have been so unwise as to lay in heavy stocks of goods, hoping to run them off rapidly, find the prevailing caution in their way; but, however disastrous this may prove in individual cases, it is on the whole beneficial. A wise seaman who sees the portents of a gathering storm, commences directly to take in sail, and leaves as little as possible for the tempest to take hold upon. Such may have a sail or spar torn away, but they commonly ride out the storm in safety. Seamen who keep their canvass spread, in defiance of admonitions, meaning to make all the speed they can, are apt to be overtaken by the elements, and find they are not strong enough for the encounter.

HORACE GREELEY and THURLOW WEED are conducting, in their respective Journals, a sharp war upon each other. THURLOW denies strenuously the soft impeachment of ever having entertained a prejudice against the colored men, whereupon HORACE goes back some thirty years to prove otherwise, detailing an office conversation which happened in 1837 while he was a reporter on the Albany Journal. No person need accuse MR. GREELEY with having a bad memory, certainly MR. WEED cannot after the exhibition of its accuracy.

PREVIOUS to his departure from Washington, preparatory to embarkation for Europe, Colonel John W. Forney was aid distinguished honors in the way of formal farewells from the clerks of the Secretary of the Senate, the employees of the Chronicle, and the colored citizens of the District. These evidences of the respect of his fellow-men must have been truly gratifying to Col. Forney.

UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE is to be made a political issue in the selection of Legislators at the next election in New Jersey.

IT IS proposed to annex West Florida to Alabama. The proposition meets with much favor in the latter State.

Petrified Human Bodies.

A correspondent of the Boston Journal writes from Pittsford, Vt., that two petrified corpses have been disinterred from the burial-ground there. The soil of this burial ground is of a moist, gravelly hard pan, with no indications of any foreign or peculiar mineral substance. The two cases reported are the only ones yet discovered, though over seventy-five bodies have been removed from the same locality within the past seven years. Mrs. Lincoln, wife of the late Capt. John H. Lincoln, of Pittsford, died from the rupture of a blood vessel in the year 1852. In October, 1863, the body was disinterred for the purpose of depositing it in the new cemetry, when it was discovered to be in a state of perfect petrification, and so solid as to resist several hard brows by a heavy hammer. The appearance of the body and features was very natural, with the exception of the eyes, which were entirely obliterated, leaving the sockets empty. The hair was of the same color and apparent flexibility as when first buried; the color of the body of a light, yellowish white, and so perfect in all respects as to be easily made stand on its feet. The remains when interred were dressed in black silk, and when disinterred a black mold completely covered the surface, but was easily brushed off, revealing what appeared to be a perfect marble statue. Mrs. Penfield, wife of the late Sturgis Penfield, of Pittsford, after a sickness of three days with the dysentery, died and was buried in the same ground in the year 1854, was taken up for removal last spring, and was found to be in the same state of petrification as Mrs. Lincoln, with the exception of the flesh on her fingers, which had decayed entirely off, leaving the bones of the fingers the same as the rest of the body—entirely petrified.

—All sorts of wrappings are now made for spring wear; there are peplums, burnousee, loose paletots and tight-fitting paletots. The paletots have vandyked or scolloped edges, are embroidered on the seams with jeat beads. The mignon paletot is composed of thick black silk, bordered all round with rouleaux of black satin, and on the seam at the back the same rouleaux are placed: here and there, with a narrow space from the satin rouleaux, there are bouquets of violets made with ribbon, surrounded with green silk leaves. The above is rather a fanciful mode for walking toilets, but everything now the vogue savors of eccentricity. Loose sleeves are the only sleeves made for the warm weather garments; some are open to the top of the arm, and others again are of the old pagoda shape. The Galilee sleeve is graceful in form, but it is only a make believe sleeve, as it forms a part of the paletot, and hangs from the shoulder, where it ends in a point which is finished with a tassel.—Paris Correspondence.

—Hartstein, who has dropped out of notice since the outbreak of the war, was a passenger to Europe by a late steamer. He will be remembered by all who watched the fortunes of Kane as the Lieutenant Hartstein who was chosen to head the hunt for the explorer when he was supposed to be lost, and who was afterwards sent to deliver the rescued Resolute to the Queen. He was a South Carolinian, and when his State went out he gave up his commission. Whether or not he intended to take active part against the government, a stroke of paralysis soon after the fall of Sumter unfitted him for service. He ran the blockade and went to Paris, whence he returned after a stay of three years to find his home in ruins.

—It is not to be wondered at that the King of Prussia is now as popular in his own capital as a year or two ago he was the reverse. Berlin was illuminated on his birthday, and the Austrian Embassy had a device to this effect: "Hail to the laurel-crowned victor!" It is hardly possible to conceive the humiliation of Prussia's great rival, GIVE NATURE A LIFT.

People expect too much of Nature. They trifle with their health and their constitutions, and then are surprised that they fall sick.

The pressure of constant mental or bodily labor, upon the animal powers, is tremendous. Very few systems and constitutions can bear up against this pressure unassisted. And to this the unhealthy influences which lurk unseen in the air we breathe, the water we drink, the lassitude produced at this season by the change from the rigor of Winter to the warmth of Spring, and it would seem to require almost superhuman vigor to keep in perfect health without reinforcing the physical energies.

But how reinforce them? Certainly not with adulterated stimulants. There is no poison in the outer air, or in the atmosphere of furnace-heated rooms, or work-shops, or factories, so pernicious as those deadly-burning fluids. Why use them, when HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a vegetable tonic without alloy, are everywhere obtainable? Nothing has ever been offered to the feeble and debilitated so harmless in its nature, so powerful in its invigorating effects, as this celebrated

STOMACHIC AND ALTERATIVE.

In the army and the navy in new settlements, and in crowded cities, by old and young, rich and poor, it is used as a PROTECTIVE AND RESTORATIVE MEDICINE, with most gratifying results.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney, of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodnue, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "it is prescribed in leucorrhoea, gleet, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5.

Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at DR. KEYSER'S Great Medicine store, 140 Wood street. ap20

DIAMOND STREET, NEAR LIBERTY,
On Wednesday, May 1, 1867.

Every person in the city or vicinity in need of anything in the line of Buggies, Family Barouches, Buck Wagons, Jagger Wagons, or any other light vehicle, should make it a point to be on hand. The sale will be without reserve, and as the vehicles are of the very best and most finished manufacture, there can be no mistake in buying any of them. Mr. Shaffer's establishment is well known, and the many who have, during years past, purchased from him, have always been more than satisfied with them. He has on hand a very large stock of all kinds of light vehicles, all of his own manufacture, which are without doubt equal to the very best in the country. We therefore advise an inspection of this splendid stock, feeling sure that it will give satisfaction. Any of the stock can be bought at a great reduction on former prices. A choice stock of Harness will also be sold.

THURSDAY, APRIL 25, 1867.

A Brief Sketch of Life in San Francisco.

The following translation of an article by J. S. Hittell, published in Phily Jacoby's San Francisco German Almanac for 1867:

San Francisco, styled figuratively the Golden City, with a population of 120,000, the metropolis of the finance, commerce, manufactures, and fashion of the Pacific Coast of North America, is situated in latitude 37 deg. 48 min., about the same distance from the equator as Richmond, Lisbon, Palermo, Athens, Smyrna, and Yedo, and four miles from the Pacific Ocean on the western shore of San Francisco Bay. The climate is cool throughout the year, never cool enough to freeze, and seldom hot enough to make light clothing comfortable. The average temperature of January, the the coldest month, is 49 deg., and of September, the warmest month, 58 deg. Fahrenheit, the difference being only nine degrees, whereas the difference between January and July is 42 deg., in New York, 25 deg., in London, and 30 deg., in Naples. No other city in the temperate zone has a climate so equable as that of San Francisco; none in any zone has a temperature better suited for the growth of physical health and development, or the intellectual and physical activity of man. The climate is so cool in summer that sunny exposures are preferred for residences, and shade trees are very few. In our parks and ornamental grounds we prefer low, bushy evergreens, not tall, wide-spreading, deciduous trees. The peninsula of San Francisco has a poor soil, and is bare of trees. During the late summer and spring the surrounding hills are covered with green grass, but in the summer, fall and early winter, the adjacent country and the city itself have a cheerless, dirty yellow look.

The people are mostly Americans by birth, but there are also many English, Irish, French, Germans, Italians, Spanish-Americans, Scandinavians, Dalmatians, and Chinese. There are French, German, Italian and Spanish newspapers; French, German and Chinese Churches, and French, German and Chinese theatrical companies, which perform occasionally. The religion in which public services are regularly held are Jewish, Buddhist, Catholic, Protestant and Spiritualist. If the rites of the Mohammedian, Mormon, or Pagan worship are celebrated the fact is not generally known. The city has twenty-eight Protestant and ten Catholic Churches, two Jewish Synagogues, and six buildings in which Buddhist ceremonies are occasionally held. The most splendid edifice devoted to purposes of worship in the city is the Synagoue Emanu-El. An Episcopal Bishop and a Catholic Archbishop reside here. Among the Protestant Churches are five Presbyterian, four Congregationalists, three Baptist, eight Methodist, four Episcopal, three Lutheran and one Unitarian. If, however, Church-going is necessary to religion, then it might be said that the majority of the people have no religion. On pleasant Sundays the cars and ferries are crowded with persons going out into the suburbs or the country to visit places of amusement, or to stroll about and enjoy the fresh air. Religious prejudices are not strong. Protestant, Catholic and Jew associate together in business and society with the utmost friendliness, as if it were better to agree about the affairs of this world than to quarrel about those of another. When any important financial, social or political movement is on foot, the managers are not satisfied unless all classes are brought in and represented. The daily press treat all forms of faith with equal respect, and frown upon all attempts to excite religious animosities. No church monopolizes the business, the wealth, the intelligence or the political government of the city. The Catholics have the most compact religious organization, the Jews have a large portion of the importing and treasure trade, and the Protestants or persons of Protestant descent hold most of the offices. Under such circumstances religious bigotry cannot thrive.

In the matter of public amusements the city is destined to become eminent. The mild winters and cool summers are favorable to out-door life. The people spend much of their time in the open air. Processions, picnics, excursions, and public displays are frequent. Dancing is in fashion throughout the year. Two theatres are open almost constantly, and we have an opera season every year, besides numerous concerts and lectures. Those who wish to go out in a buggy, usually drive to the splendid ocean beach, on a romantic road, over the hills west of the city. The spring and early summer, when the country is green, is the season for leaving the city. The chief summer resorts are the various towns and warm springs of the valleys near the bay, the Geysers, the Big Trees, Yosemite and Santa Cruz. The number, however, of those who come to San Francisco for pleasure is much greater than of those who leave it. Everybody who lives on the Pacific slopes wants to make a home in this city, or at least to spend some time here. The miner who has made a successful strike, the farmer who has a good crop, the lawyer who has accumulated a nice property by practice in the interior, looks forward to the day when he can enjoy the fruits of his labor in the metropolis of the Pacific. There's a multitude, a variety, and a rapid succession of entertainments, unequalled by any city of the New World save New York. The most costly productions, and the greatest delicacies of all quarters of the globe, are here collected. Montgomery street, though shorter than Broadway, is nos less brilliant. Our hotels are palatial in size, furniture, cost and style of management. When we see a city not yet out of her teens rivalling in luxuries the capitals of Europe, what grandeur may we not expect for her maturer years!

There are a vast number of benevolent and social associations in the city. There are two Jewish, one German, one French, one Spanish, one Scandinavian, one Italian, one Swiss, one Dalamatian, and one City, Benevolent Societies, fifteen Masonic Lodges, nine Odd Fellows Lodges, and at least one each of the B'nai Berith, Druids, Red Men and Ancient Order of Knights. The Catholic Church maintains two Orphans Asylum, a hospital, and a Magdalen Asylum The Protestants have an Orphan Asylum and an association for the relief of destitute women. The German and French Benevolent Societies have each a fine hospital. There is no almshouse in the city, or, for that matter, in the State.

San Francisco is, in proportion to its size, the busiest seaport of the world. No other city twice as large has so large a trade. The annual exports are about $70,000,000, the imports nearly as much, the manufactures are worth nearly $20,000,000, the real estate sales amount to about $12,000,000, and the cash value of the land, buildings and movable property of the city is about $200,000,000, although assessed for taxation at only $80,000,000. We send away about forty tons of silver and six tons of gold every month—the former metal in bars fifteen inches long and five inches square; the latter in small bars about six inches long, three inches wide and two inches thick. Wagons loaded with the precious metals are seen in the streets nearly every day. The profits of merchants and the wages of mechanics and laborers are high. The general style of living is luxurious. Travellers have observed that in no place do the mass of the people live in more comfort than in San Francisco. Miserly habits are very rare, and even prudent regard for the future is not so common as it should be. One of the evidences of the common extravagance is observed in the fact that many persons refuse to take any change less than a dime. Half dimes, which are the smallest coins in use, are less prized here even by the poorest than cents are in New York. The drayman carries a gold watch; the washerwoman dresses in silk the chambermaid is unhappy if her bonnet is not of the latest Parisian fashion.

The Railroads of Our State.

[From the Philadelphia Press.]

The statistics of the railroads of Pennsylvania, as presented in the report of the Auditor General for the last year, are not only interesting but wonderful. Two hundred and sixty-seven and a half million of dollars have been expended on the steam roads, which in length extend over four thousand miles in main lines alone. The receipts of the various companies amount to almost seventy-one millions of dollars. No wonder they can build palaces of depots, and span every rivulet with iron bridges, which are in beauty and elegance a work of art.

These statistics develop one item which is so extremely comforting and pleasant that we like to dwell upon it. The railroads of the Commonwealth carried last year 17,724,216 through passengers—all the passengers killed during the year amounting to but thirteen. This makes one passenger killed out of every 1,364,170¼ carried. In other words, a person traveling in Pennsylvania stands only one and a third millionth chance of losing his life. This infinitesimal risk should soothe the nerves of all the timid and fearful people for whom a journey is a thing more venturesome and frightful than a campaign or battle to a soldier. Only to think of it! A veteran would be ashamed to enter an engagement when the risk was so small. At this ratio the killed in all the war, out of both armies, would not equal five men. Traveling in Pennsylvania, at all events, is not dangerous to life; but we doubt if many other states can show so clear a record.

It is a painful tribute to their fidelity and heroism to find that the employees of the road—the heroes of the rail—an infinitely small class when compared with the millions of passengers, outnumbered them in "killed" more than twelve to one. This simple heroic fact tells its own story, and what a story of devotion and intrepidity it is! No encomiums or panegyrics of ours could do them the honor of their own grand deeds.

—The following is the best example of national susceptibilities we have heard of: An American who is now in Paris, and who claims to be the most adroit man in the world in the handling of the musket and bayonet, went the other day to seek an engagement at one of the Paris circuses, offering to fight in the arena (with wooden bayonets) against five of the best musketmen in the French army, all at once, one against five. The director of the circus said, "No, I can't do that; but if you will dress up as a French soldier, and whip five soldiers dressed up as Americans, I'll give you an engagement!" The Yankee retired in disgust, and at last accounts was still swearing.

—The citizens of Concord, Mass., on Friday last dedicated a monument which has recently been erected to the memory of the soldiers from that place who were killed in the war. Ralph Waldo Emerson delivered an address, and F. B. Sanborn read a poem. The monument is of Concord granite, in the form of an obelisk, and is forty-nine feet six inches high, with bronze tablets bearing the names of the fallen soldiers and appropriate inscriptions.

—Mrs. Jennie Scott and Miss Ester found a pocket book in St. Louis, some time ago, and returned it to Madame Callahan, who claimed to be the owner. There was but $20 in it when returned, and Mrs. Callahan claiming that there was $2,000 in it at the time it was lost, caused the arrest of the finders. They were ultimately discharged, and Mrs. Scott a few days ago obtained a verdict of $2,000 damages for false imprisonment.

—A Natchez paper states that Mr. A. M. Gwin, brother of Senator Gwin, of California, was recently drowned in the Mississippi river, above the head of Island No. 98. He had been hunting, and was returning home with his game in a dug-out. A storm arose while he was crossing the river, and nothing was seen or heard of him after.

—In January last twenty-two persons were burned to death in jail at Kingston, South Carolina. The Sheriff of the county, the keeper of the jail and his assistant were indicted for murder, the calamity being charged to their neglect. On Friday last their trial was concluded, resulting in a verdict of not guilty.

—At Louisville, Ky., on Sunday, a party of white men undertook to drive some negroes out of a drinking saloon, when a general fight ensued. Yesterday sixteen negroes and five white men were arraigned before the Court for their disorderly conduct.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, April 24, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 140¼; Eighty-one bonds, 109⅝; Five Twenties, 1862, 110; do, 1864, 108⅝; do, 1865, 108⅞; Consols, '65, 107¼; Ten Forties, —; Seven Thirties, 106; 2d and 3d issue, 105⅝; Michigan Southern Railroad, 66¼; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 68¾; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 92; Chicago and Northwestern, common, 32; do preferred, 57¾; New York Central, 96¾; Reading, 101; Erie, 56¾; Chicago and Rock Island, 86¼; Western Union Telegraph, 36⅞.

James T. Brady & Co., bankers, corner of Fourth and Wood streets, dealers in Government Securities, quote the same in New York to-day as follows:

Gold	139
U. S. Sixes 1881	109⅝
" 1862	110
" 1864	108⅜
" 1865	108⅝
U. S. Ten-Forties	98 3-16
U. S. Consols 1865	107¼
August Seven-thirties	106⅛
June "	105⅞
July "	105⅝
June, Compounds, 1864	119

Gold opened at 138⅝, advanced to 139, declined to 138⅞, and was strong at 2 p. m. at 140¼, with a disposition to take all that was offered. Cash gold is scarce for delivery, and from ⅛ to ¼ per day is charged for advancing it. Government securities are not quite so firm as last night; the decline ½ per cent. in England had a depressing effect on the market here. Railroad shares were somewhat better to-day, the bear element in the market has spent its force, and the abundance of money in New York may bring about the long expected rise.

It is an erroneous idea that people in Europe at the outbreak or during a war would buy our securities, and thereby enhance their market value. People there, as elsewhere, will hold the precious metals, and lose interest on money rather than run the risk of having bonds and stocks confiscated by the Government, or see them burnt up, of which there is greater danger there than here. Since the soldiery are quartered with the citizens, and the number of sufferers in case of disaster is much greater than here, the country being more thickly settled.

Ph. R. Mertz, 118 Wood street, will pay the highest price for May and July coupons.

—The retirement, by purchase or conversion into the new consolidated issue of the Five Twenties, of the first series of the Seven Thirties, which will mature in the coming month of August, is progressing at a rate exceeding a million dollars a day. The whole of this first issue will doubtless be satisfactorily provided for by the time of the formal maturity of the notes, only about $100,000,000 now remaining unconverted. This will be a source of great relief and strength to the department, and cannot fail to foster popular confidence in the present judicious administration of the National finances. As the Seven Thirties are not convertible into Five Twenties after maturity, and as these notes are now worth a handsome premium over the price which they will fetch in the market when deprived of the privilege of conversion, there is little doubt that the process of funding will go on with increasing rapidity.

—Two or three extensive failures within a few weeks in New York, together with several other similar commercial disasters recently in the east, have made capitalists more cautious, without materially affecting the rate of interest for money. This want of confidence applies to the whole tendency of business not within individual control. The troubles of the cotton merchants, since the failure of one of the staunchest New York houses last week are also indicative of the general distrust. In connection with the cotton trade, the New York Journal of Commerce publishes an interesting comparative table of the prices of that staple in January and April of the present year, showing a general decline of from 8 to 10c per pound for the four months, and says:

"The troubles of cotton merchants proceed from causes out of the control of ordinary appliances, yet very natural, and easy of explanation. The advances to planters and factors were made upon a scale of prices based on an unnatural amount of paper money, and the idea that cotton culture was so much disturbed that our prices were sure to be maintained certainly until the crops of 1866 and 1867 passed into the hands of the consumer. The facts are that production has been underestimated, and throughout the cotton-consuming world causes are in operation which have reduced the demand, with what result to operators the future will more fully show. The decline of 8@9c. per pound shown in the last three and a half months does not represent the losses to be made on this staple. It has yet to fall to 14c currency, and while working down to this point will be produced in annually increasing amounts. Like any other branch of industry disturbed by the rebellion, it is gravitating toward its natural condition, with inevitable loss to all who suppose that natural laws cease to operate, however much individual interests suffer."

—At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Fort Wayne Company in New York on Monday, the following resolutions were adopted, looking to an early adjourned meeting of the shareholders:

1. Resolved, That the President be requested to designate Thursday, the 23d of May, 1867, at 12 M., at the office of the Company in Pittsburgh, for the reassembling of the adjourned annual meeting of the stockholders of this Company.

2. Resolved, That for the purpose of procuring new and additional equipment for the increasing business of the road and other necessary facilities and improvements, this Board recommend to the shareholders an issue of 15,000 shares of capital stock, and that the following detailed estimates for such work be submitted to the stockholders.

3. Resolved, That the said issue of stock shall be disposed of as follows, viz: The persons being stockholders on the books of the Company on the 10th day of June, shall be entitled to subscribe for new stock to the extent of 15 per cent. of the stock respectively held by them, on paying 80 per cent. of the par value thereof, 20 per cent. being credited to them and debited to the surplus fund; that the transfer books will close on the 10th of June, and remain closed until the 20th of June, the subscriptions will be received at the office of the Transfer Agency in the city of New York, and at the principal office in Pittsburgh, from the morning of the 20th of June until 2 p. m., of the 29th of June, when the right to subscribe will cease, and any stock not subscribed for will be disposed of as the Board may direct.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, April 24, 1867.

The produce markets continue dull, and the inclement condition of the weather has a tendency to intensify the inactivity which has prevailed thus far this week. And what is true of commercial matters is also true of manufacturing interests. The "lock out" still continues, and judging from present appearances, the prospect for a resumption of operations by the mills are just about as remote as ever.

GRAIN—There is no movement in Wheat and none in this market. Oats dull and in good supply but unchanged; sale of 1 car No. 2 at 58, and 1 car No. 1 at 65, delivered. Corn is in demand and firm; may be quoted at $1 to $1,05, on wharf and track. Rye is held at $1,60, and but little offering. Barley is quoted at $1,05 to $1,10.

FLOUR—Is dull but unchanged. We continue to quote at $14 to $14½ for Spring Wheat; $15 to $16 for Winter Wheat; and $18 to $19 for fancy St. Louis brands. Rye Flour, $9 per bbl, and Cornmeal $1,10 per bushel.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is steady and unchanged at 9½c to 10c for Shoulders; 11¾ to 12⅝c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 15½c to 15¾c for Plain Sugar Cured Hams, and 16¼ to 16¾ for Canvassed Hams. Dried Beef, 23. Lard, 13 and Mess Pork, $23 to $23,50.

SEEDS—Cloverseed is dull and drooping, as the season is about over. Timothy seed is selling in store, at $3. Flaxseed is in good demand at $3.

BUTTER—Is dull, with liberal arrivals, and a supply considerably in excess of the demand; prime to choice fresh Roll may be quoted at 30c to 33c—but little selling above 30c.

EGGS—Continue very dull, the market being completely glutted, and prices are declining. We can report sales at 15c to 17—mostly at 15 to 16c.

MILL FEED—Sale of 1 car Seconds at $2. Last sales of Middlings reported was at $2,25.

POTATOES—In better supply and dull, but as yet unchanged—small sales in store at 95c to $1 per bush for Peach Blows.

GREEN APPLES—Dull but unchanged—selling all the way from $4,50 to $5,50 per bbl for good to choice.

OIL—Sales of Lard Oil at 90c for No. 2, and $1,10 for No. 1.

HAY—Is quiet but unchanged. Good to strictly prime Timothy Hay may be quoted at $25 to $27, on track and wharf.

LIME—Sales at $2 per bbl, in store.

DRIED FRUIT—Is dull but unchanged.

PIG LEAD—Sales at 10⅛c.

BEANS—Prime small white $2,75.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, April 24, 1867.

CRUDE—The market was again very quiet and a little dull to-day, though prices have undergone no quotable change. Sale of 500 bbls, on the spot, at 6⅝c, and 2000 bbls to be delivered between the 15th of June and the 30th of August, seller's option, at 7⅛c. Spot oil may be quoted at 6¼ to 6½c, and May at 6¾ to 7c, and, as has been the case all week thus far, buyers are scarce; the demand for both present and future delivery at the prevailing prices, is light, and refiners generally are disposed to hold off in anticipation of lower figures. A telegram from Petroleum Centre to-day quoted at $2.20 at that point, which is equivalent to about $2,35 to $2,40 at Oil City.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil continues quiet and a little dull, and if anything, prices are a shade lower. We can report a sale of 2000 bbls standard white, for May, at 21½, on board cars here; 500 for July and 500 for August, at 29, delivered in Philadelphia; and 500 bbls prime light straw to white, for first half of May, at 26¼; also, sales in Philadelphia of 500 for May, 500 for June, and 500 for July, at 27—prime light straw to white. A telegram from Philadelphia, late in the afternoon, reported the market off, and all orders withdrawn.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:

J. Gallagher	1200	Fisher & Bro	2000
Mawhinney & Co	1700	Lockart & Frew	10000
Aladdin Oil Co.	1500
Total			16,400

New York Financial Matters.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 24.—Money market unchanged, Call loans 4@6. Gold intensely excited all day by the most extravagant rumors current, including the decline in cotton at Liverpool to 10c. and bonds to 67¼, and the crossing of the Rhine by the French. Prices run up to 142, but fell to 141, and subsequently closed at 141⅛@141⅜. Sterling firmer with light business at 9⅝@10.

Governments opened firmer. This afternoon the market was lower, owing to orders to sell from Europe. Closing prices: Registered 1881, 109⅛@109¼; coupons 1881, 109¼@109½; Five-Twenties, regular, 1862, 104⅞@105; do. coupons 1862, 109⅝@110; do. coupons 1864, 108⅛@108⅜; do. coupons 1865, 108⅝@108¾; January and July, 107⅛@107⅜; August Seven-Thirties, 106⅛@106¼; June do. 105⅞@105¾.

Stock Exchange was generally ½@¾ per cent. lower on Railway speculations at first Boards, as compared with the highest point yesterday; but the market was steady. After the session there was a much stronger feeling in the long room, an increased demand and a general advance. The market was buoyant and active after the second Board, with a rise of Erie to 58; Michigan Central, 97½. At last the open board market was a little lower, but subsequently closed firm, particularly for Western Railroads, most of which sell at the highest point of the day.

William Heath & Co. report the following 5:30 P. M. rates: American Gold, 141⅛@141¼; Ohio Certificates, 23@23¾; Canton, 41½@42; Cumberland, 28@28½; Quicksilver, 27¾@29; Mariposa, 6¾@7¼; do. preferred, 20@20¼; Western Union Telegraph, 37⅝@37¾; New York Central, 97⅛@97¼; Erie, 57⅛@57¼; Hudson, 91; Reading, 101⅞@102; Michigan Southern, 67@67¼; Pittsburgh, 69⅞@70; Toledo, 112@112⅛; Rock Island, 87⅛@87¼; Northwestern, 32@32⅛; do. preferred, 58⅞@58¾; Fort Wayne, 92¼@92⅜; Pacific Mail, 126@128; Atlantic, 88⅛@89. Border State bonds dull; new Tennessee, 62; Missouri, 93. Coal shares quiet. Miscellaneous shares steady.

Mining market more active with wide fluctuations, and in several instances Corydon was the great feature, and sold largely from 685 to 725. Consolidated Gregory opened at 950 and declined to 700. Quartz Hill dull and closed at 205@210, after selling at 220. Sensederfer quite active, at 925@950. The steamship Aleppo sailed for Europe with $72,000 in gold. Prices of Mining Stocks bid in Boston to-day: Canada, 40; Copper Falls, 22¼; Franklin, 20; Hancock, 5¾; Huron, 6½; Isle Royal, 7; Quincy, 23.

Cincinnati Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, April 24.—Market generally stronger, owing to the advance in gold, and less disposition to sell. Flour firmer and prices in favor of sellers, though not quotably higher; superfine $11,00@12,25; trade brands $13,50@16,00; fancy $16@18. Wheat scarce; sales of 700 bushels No. 3 Spring at $2,72@3,00; do. No. 1 Spring at $3,00. Corn active and excited; prices 3@5c higher, closing at 95c for mixed in bulk, and $1,05 for sacked. Oats firmer but not higher. Rye and Barley unchanged. Whisky 26c in bond. Cotton; no demand, and it is useless to give quotations; foreign news renders sales impossible. Provisions firm but quiet; all articles held firmly. Lard; sales of 300 tierces at 12½c; now held higher owing to the advance in gold. Butter dull at 26@30c; supply in excess of the demand. Eggs 14@15c. Sugar firm; prices unchanged. Coffee firm; the advance in gold counteracts the influence of the decline in New York. Seed quiet; Clover $11,75@12,00; Timothy $3,30@3,40; Linseed $1,45@1,47. Gold excited and higher, closing at 139½, buying, and 140½@141 selling.

Dry Goods Trade.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 24.—Dry Goods are rapid with the advance in gold. A decline in the market for cotton, under warlike advices from Europe. It has a depressing effect on the cloth market, but at a concession a fair inquiry prevails, although the market on the whole lacks animation. In bleached muslins we note some changes as follows: Axbridge improved sell at 20c; Chapman, 21c; Hope, 19c; Hebron, 19; Washington, 18½c; Masonville, 25c; do. extra, 26c; Indian River, 12½c and 4-4 Lowdondale sheeting, 19c. Unbleached muslins are in steady request at the decline; Atlantic A 20½c; Pacific extra, 20c; Augusta, 18c and Lawrence A 16@16½. RIVER NEWS.

The river was apparently about at a stand last evening, with eight and a half feet in the channel by the Allegheny marks. The weather yesterday was cloudy and raw, with quite a snow early in the morning, and several slight showers of rain during the day.

There has not been a single arrival since our last report aside from the regular packets. The Bellevernon, from St. Louis, is among the first boats due.

The Argosy, for Cincinnati; Importer, for St. Louis, and the Columbia, for the Upper Mississippi, cleared yesterday afternoon. The Argosy did not have a very big trip out, which was doubtless owing partially to the inclement condition of the weather. The Importer had a very good freight list, and a fair number of passengers. The Columbia had one of the best trips of the season, and nearly all of her freight was for points on the Upper Mississippi.

We have private advices from St. Louis, from which we learn that the Ida Stockdale left there for the mountains on Thursday last, with one of the best trips that has gone up the Missouri this season, drawing three and a half feet forward and thirty inches aft. She had one hundred tons to put out between St. Louis and Omaha, and eight hundred bags of government corn to put out at Fort Union; also, two hundred and thirty tons of private freight for Fort Benton, and eighteen through passengers. The Carrie left for the same destination on Sunday with a good trip, including two hundred tons of government freight. The Luella also was to have left on Tuesday or Wednesday.

The Kate Putnam, Capt. J. H. Lightner, will leave for St. Louis this evening without fail, and passengers and shippers should bear this fact in mind. Mr. J. D. Young still retains charge of the office.

The Silver Lake No. 4, enroute from Pittsburgh to the gold regions, arrived at Saint Louis on Sunday.

The Peerless, Capt. T. H. Williams is the regular Saturday packet for Cincinnati, and the America will be ready to leave for New Orleans to-day or to-morrow.

The following boats were in port at Cincinnati on Monday: Alice Dean, P. W. Strader, Silver Spray, Sam J. Hale, Henry Adkins, Cottage No. 2, Camelia, John H. Groesbeck, Emperor, Golden Era, Silver Moon, Anglo Saxon, Sherman, Wauanita, Lawrence, Melnotte, Lizzie Hopkins, Silver Cloud No. 2, Messenger, New York, Mary Erwin, Golden Eagle, Rowena, Swallow.

The Memphis Avalanche has the following:

Mr. Crawford, the special agent of the supervising board for this and the Louisville district, arrived in the city yesterday. He is here to look after the locked safety valve. Mr. Crawford says the law only requires one safety valve to a battery of boilers, and any locked valve of the approved pattern is all that is required. So the great American valve monopoly can be dispensed with.

The Cincinnati Commercial, of Tuesday, says: The Camelia, Capt. Coffin, returned from her trip to the Tennessee river, and will commence loading immediately, and return on Thursday next. The America, Capt. Thos. H. Golding, has also entered that trade, and will follow the Camelia on Thursday week. It is the intention of Captain Coffin to run the Camelia, together with the America, regularly from this city to the Tennessee river, one of them leaving here every Thursday.

Capt. Dryden, falls pilot at Louisville, telegraphs the same paper as follows: An outrage was perpetrated on the Insurance Companies and on the lives of passengers on board the steamer Emma Floyd, Capt. W. G. Voris. She arrived at Jeffersonville this morning, drawing 5 feet and full of freight and people; inquired how much water there was on the falls—Mr. Dryden answered, 6 feet and 6 inches over the rocks. The Captain rang the bell and went over the falls without a pilot, Hugle at the wheel. She run over the Backbone and into the basin, head on, and only for her good quality for backing out, she would have sunk in deep water, no telling how many lives would have been lost. The Captain would have been to blame and accountable for every one's life on said boat. I think it is my duty to notify the Insurance Companies and the traveling community of what boat they ship on, or Captain they travel with. You will please give this a place in your columns.

A new ferryboat, lately built at Monroe, La., made a trial trip on Friday last, and proceeded as far as Trenton, one and a half miles, and just at sundown her boiler exploded, and ten persons were severely injured. Among them were Mr. Norcross, United States Assessor, dangerously; Capt. Morey, of the Freedmen's Bureau, dangerously; Dr. Simmons, a well known planter, severely scalded, and lived but a few hours; Robert Caldwell, a leading lawyer of Monroe, dangerously; and a young man named Lewis. The machinery was constructed at New Orleans. The engineer, who is said to be to blame, has been arrested, and was to be examined on the charge of manslaughter, on Monday. This information is derived from Capt. P. D. O'Neal.

The river reporters of the Bulletin and Avalanche, of Memphis, are engaged in a Kilkenny cat newspaper quarrel over the Richmond.

Col. Bennett, jr., takes charge of the office of Captain Geer's new packet, Henry Adkins.

The St. Louis Democrat makes the following pointed thrust at the Louisville papers, and their pet, the Richmond:

A Memphis paper states that the Louisville Courier's reporter got $500 for writing up the Richmond. The statement is hardly worthy of belief. If a boat has not within herself the elements of success, newspaper writing will prove of very little use. The steamboatman who would be so lavish of money, is not a proper person to have charge of a steamer. Still, it is possible that the owners of the Richmond believe that their steamer requires much gassing while the Great Republic by her splendor, great speed, immense capacity, and the common sense management of her officers, is certain to render a good account of herself.

PROPOSALS FOR IRON WORK

Sealed Proposals will be received at this office until 1 o'clock on FRIDAY, the 3d day of May, 1867, for the necessary iron work for an iron coffer-dam for Waugoshance Light-house, Straits of Mackinaw, Michigan. Plans and specifications for this work can be obtained on application to this office, or to Gen. W. S. Smith, Superintending Engineer at Oak Park, Cook county, Illinois.

This iron work will be required to be delivered on or before the 10th of June, 1867, on board of a vessel either at Buffalo, N. Y., Cleveland, O., Detroit, Michigan, or Chicago, Ill., at the option of the bidder, but the place of delivery must be stated in the bid.

The iron work will amount to about 150,000 pounds, of which about 100,000 will be boiler work, and the residue will be cast-iron and tension rods, bolts, &c.

The Board reserves the right to reject any proposal, or to refuse to receive any part of the work which may not be in strict conformity with the contract and specifications; and no contract will be considered binding until approved by the Hon. Secretary of the Treasury. No bid will be received or considered except from bona fide manufacturers, and each offer must be accompanied by a written guarantee, signed by the bidder and competent surety, that in the event of the acceptance of such bid the necessary contract will be entered into.

Bond and security for the faithful fulfillment of the contract will be required.

The sum for which the bidder proposes to furnish the iron work, according to the drawings and specifications, must be distinctly stated, and a copy of the printed specifications must be enclosed with the bid as evidence that there is no mistake as to the object of his proposal.

All proposals must be sealed and endorsed "Proposals for Iron Work for Waugoshance Light-house," and then enclosed in another envelope and addressed to the Chairman of the Light-house Board, Washington, D. C.

No bid will be considered that does not conform to the requirements of this advertisement.

Any person submitting a proposal may be present and witness the opening of the bids at the time and place hereinbefore specified.

By order of the Light-house Board.
